School Board Balks at Teacher Pay Hike

$100 General Increase Denied But Starting Salaries Raised

Menlo Park Elementary School district trustees this week balked at a proposal to raise the district's teachers' salaries $100 "across the board" on the basis of a recent $97 windfall in federal funds.

They declared the district's budget, which has no provision for capital outlay and which will have minimum reserves, was already "too weak" to risk a pay hike on the basis of the new funds.

The trustees agreed, however, that teachers' starting salaries should be raised to a figure of at least $4100 and possibly higher, if current legislation in Sacramento is passed. School District Business Manager John Richert said the district "is optimistic' 'about getting about $25,000 from this source. Present starting salary for teachers is $4000 .

Suggestion that the $100 across the board pay increase be granted came from District Superintendent Dr. Melville Homfeld, who said that he has found the district at a disadvantage in hiring teachers, when quoting the present starting figure.

Trustee James Black observed that any differential in wages paid here and elsewhere is usually wiped out by the time a teacher has been with the district for six years, however, since the Menlo Park agency has agreed to larger annual increments than most districts.

SEEK 'GUARANTEE'

He added that he felt the trustees should "guarantee" that at least 80 per cent of funds forthcoming from the present California legislative action should be turned into teachers' salaries since the legislation has been specifically tagged for such hikes.

Trustee William Platt agreed that the present budget is "not feasible" because reserves are small and capital outlay funds are nil. But he added that he too felt the "next available" funds should be used for teachers' salaries.

If teacher salaries are raised $100 "across the board," Homfeld said, total cost to the district would be $9700.

He explained that he has had difficulty, during recent weeks, persuading teachers to locate here on the basis of the present starting stipends. This has been especially true, he said, in the hiring of seventh and eighth grade teachers.

School Trustees To Sit in at Road Hearing

Menlo Park School District trustees will adjourn to the Menlo Park City Council chambers next Tuesday night, as the city's governing body holds final hearings on where to route an underpass between El Camino Real and the Linfield Oaks area.

The school board will be present to explain the need for bypassing the present Laurel school site. The city council has in past hearings considered the possibility of putting an underpass opposite Middle avenue connecting with Burgess drive and extending the latter right-of-way to Middlefield road.

An underpass at Willow road, connecting with El Camino Real at Cambridge avenue, will also be discussed by the council Tuesday.

The school trustees decided to be at the council meeting on Monday, after District Superintendent Mel Homfeld reported that the cost of land in Stanford Village is no higher than in Atherton. The school district has an oral commitment from Stanford University to the effect that the Laurel school property, plus additional acreage, can be purchased at the price Stanford paid for it. This is about $16,000 per acre.

At the Monday study meeting of the school district trustees, it was pointed out that, if the district could acquire the 3½-acre Laurel property at the present time, some additional classrooms could be built there to relieve present overcrowding of classrooms east of El Camino Real.

Children attending could use the Burgess Park for recreation, it was speculated.

Stanford University cannot sell adjoining Village land until its housing needs are taken care of and this might be as late as 1965, Homfeld pointed out, but acquisition of even the small parcel of property would provide a "short range" solution, he said.

Since next Tuesday's council meeting falls on a regular meeting date of the school board, the school trustees agreed to reset their June business meeting to 8 a.m. Saturday, June 15.

City Planners Turn Down Tall Radio Tower

After one of their members said he didn't want Menlo Park to look like an "oilfield," the city's Planning Commission rejected a request by a ham radio operator for a 50-foot antenna Monday.

The applicant, Paul C. Wolf, 32 Willow road, will be permitted, however, to construct a 35-foot tower, the limit under city ordinance.

Attorney James Shovlin of Atherton, also a radio enthusiast, said that three supreme court rulings had denied the right of cities to interfere with radio operations.

City Attorney James O'Keefe countered that the city was within its rights to limit structures. "It's part of the police power," he said.

Whether Wolf would continue to press for the 50-foot antenna was not clear at Recorder press time.

Action by the planners climaxed a month of negotiation between Wolf and neighbors in the area during which time they attempted to work out a solution to the problem.

Commissioner Joseph Perry, in voting to reject the application, said if the city granted permission to build this antenna it would have to allow all applicants the same privilege.

Nosey Mickey Learns Peril of Using His Head

By NEWTON THE NEWSHOUND

If a dog named Mickey hadn't liked ice cream bar wrappers, the firemen wouldn't have had to break a $15 vase.

But Mickey, who is a four months old pointer owned by Mr. and Mrs. Richard I. Altman of 261 Camino al Lago does like the discarded papers. And the firemen did have to break a vase.

The smoke-eaters aren't apologizing; Mickey presumably is telling all other pointers that one should never use his head when in a tight spot, by way of explanation of events at the Altman home last Friday afternoon.

It all started at about 1:30 p.m. when Mrs. Altman looked out of the window and saw the dog, his head apparently firmly fixed in the garden ornament, dragging it backwards down the driveway.

(For this Mickey is presumably sorry. No hunting dog is supposed to get this confused.)

Mrs. Altman made a couple of tries at getting Mickey out of trouble, but found that the vase, weighted with sand, was too heavy to manuever easily. She called the firemen.

A rescue squad descended on the quiet west Atherton neighborhood, and took stock of the situation.

Mrs. Altman guessed her three children might have been using the receptacle as a repository for old candy wrappers ,and maybe this is what got Mickey in such a predicament.

The firemen tried to liberate the dog, but with no more success than Mrs. Altman had had.

Somebody got a hammer . . .

* * *

"Mickey's just one of those pups," Mrs. Altman explained this week. "He seems to get into everything."

Mickey didn't say anything.

Traffic Signals Planned for Sandhill Corner

Stop signals will be constructed at the Sandhill road-Santa Cruz avenue intersection during the coming summer, City Manager C. L. Longson reported this week. He added that studies are now being made, aimed at a possible realignment of the Junipero Serra-Alpine road intersection.

Both intersections were taken into the city, in annexation of Stanford property earlier this year. Since then, Longson told members of the city council Tuesday night, preliminary surveys of traffic conducitions have been undertaken.

Both intersections have seen sharp increases in traffic load during recent years, particularly since the opening of the Stanford Plaza shopping center.

FINISHING JOB

Contractor O. C. Jones is this week completing reconstruction of gutters along San Mateo and Wallea drives between Santa Cruz and Middle avenues, City Manager C. L. Longson reports.

Suspect Indicted In Slaying

Clare Van Horne, 47, will appear in San Mateo County Superior Court Monday to face arraignment on charges of murdering Nancy McLennan, 27-year-old dancing instructor who died of hammer blows here May 27.

Van Horne was indicted by the San Mateo County grand jury Monday night, after hearing testimony by Menlo Park Police Chief George Potter and Inspector Howard Schroeder.

Police testified that Van Horne has admitted beating Mrs. McLennan, the mother of two.

Judge before whom Van Horne will appear was not named.

Seventeen of the 19 members of the grand jury were present Monday night, according to Chief Potter, who said they voted the indictment unanimously.

65 Battery D Members Ready For Training

The 65 members of Battery D 149th AA artillery battalion which is headquartered at Burgess Park gym, will depart for summer training at Camp Roberts on June 15, it was announced this week by Sergeant First Class Wayne D. Wilbur, in charge of the battery's offices here.

The 65 will be under command of Captain James R. Vallett and two other officers.

The local unit will proceed in convoy to the camp, near Paso Robles. After a week at Roberts, during which the local National Guard men may drill as a reconnaisance outfit, the company will move to Camp Hunter Liggett for bivouac exercises.

Sergeant Wilbur said he has not yet learned whether the unit—normally an automatic weapons outfit, will be instructed in the use of missiles or not, during the coming training period.

Battery D will take its self-propeled 40-mm. guns and other mobile equipment south with it, but two half-track weapons, which normally mount 50-caliber anti-aircraft machine guns, will be left at the local headquarters.

Battery D meets for drill each Monday night at Burgess Park gym. There are still openings for young men who would like to join the battery.

Menlo Postoffice Gains in Rank: 36th in State

Menlo Park postoffice ranks 36th in the state insofar as postal receipts is concerned, Postmaster Harry B. Morey announced this week. The comparative size of the local installation is based on 1956 total receipts.

During all of last year, Menlo Park's unit netted receipts totalling $598,775.60.

San Mateo and Redwood City are the only postoffices in the county with larger net receipts.

'ATHLETE OF THE YEAR'

BOB WENDELL, BASKETBALL AND BASEBALL star at Menlo-Atherton, receives the Grogan's Award trophy after being named South Peninsula Athletic League Athlete of the Year in a poll of sportswriters, coaches and officials conducted by Teen-O-Rama Publications. Making the presentation is Norm Standlee, all-time great fullback for Stanford University and the San Francisco 49ers and currently a Menlo Park businessman.

High School Star:

M-A's Bob Wendell Is Named So. Peninsula 'Athlete of Year'

Bob Wendell, Menlo-Atherton's brilliant basketball and baseball star, reached the epitome of a sensational high school career today when he was named the South Peninsula Athletic League Athlete of the Year.

Wendell was chosen in a poll of sportswriters, coaches and officials conducted by Teen-O-Rama Publications. His picture will be featured on the cover of the 1956-57 SPAL All-Sports Review, which will go on sale on the campuses of the seven league schools tomorrow.

Last Friday, Wendell was named to the All-SPAL baseball team for the second straight year. Earlier in the spring he became a two-time choice on the All-SPAL varsity basketball team and was selected Co-Player of the Year for the 1957 season with Rich Hosley of San Jose Lincoln.

Wendell will receive the Grogan's Award trophy for his selection, probably at a Menlo-Atherton assembly.

The SPAL All-Sports Review, believed to be the first publication of its type ever printed in the United States, completely chronicles league activities for the past year. It includes more than 180 pictures, final standings and statistics—some never before printed—on 20 sports, and a special section for the league's Outstanding Performers.

Apartments Take Lead in May Building Permits

Apartment house construction in Menlo Park last month took an upswing which saw it overshadow all other types of construction combined by a margin of three to one as far as valuation was concerned, Building Inspector J. D. Steiger reported yesterday.

At the same time, he declared that construction appeared on the upsurge with building permits for a total of $446,690 worth of construction issued. Of this total six apartment buildings, with a total of 56 dwelling units and an aggregate valuation of $323,000, formed the bulk.

Two new single-family residences, with an aggregate valuation of $37,000, were also started during the month.

Dolwig Gives Up As Bill Is Dumped

BULLETIN

State Senator Richard J. Dolwig of Atherton yesterday declared he has "no hope" for passage of his bill to have the Willow-Sandhill road link included in the state highway system, according to wire service reports.

The measure has been refused approval by the senate transportation committee, the story from Sacramento declared.

Efforts have been underway for some years to have the proposed highway link taken into the state road system. A similar bill was defeated two years ago in the Legislature when Menlo Park and Palo Alto city governments were unable to agree on a proper route for the thoroughfare.

Since that time, both jurisdictions have agreed to leave location of the route to engineers of the State division of highways if they would undertake the project.

At Monday Meet:

Menlo Planners Schedule Hearing On 'Co-op' Apartment Zone Idea

Fate of a $3,500,000 garden apartment project at the corner of Willow road and East Creek drive, Linfield Oaks, may be decided at a public hearing before the Menlo Park Planning Commission July 1.

At the same time, the planners will conside restablishment of a new zone for the cooperatively-owned apartments. The commission instructed City Attorney James O'Keefe to draw up a proposed amendment to the ordnance permitting co-op apartments so they could look into the matter at their study meeting June 17.

At stake is a project proposed by the Lionel V. Mayell organization which calls for approximately 122 apartment homes in 22 three-story buildings. The structures would be located on five acres of land currently owned by the Claude T. Lindsay Co.

The Planners also asked Assistant City Manager John Johnson to obtain a copy of the ordnance in Pasadena where the Mayell organization has built a similar unit.

Letters from the cities of Pasadena and Santa Barbara were received by the Planning Commission. Both commenter favorably on the co-operative apartments.

In another action, the Planners granted a conditional use permit which will allow construction of a 34-unit garden motel and restaurant west of the Veterans Administration Hospital and fronting on Willow road. A service station, currently under construction, will be located nearby. All three buildings will be built by Service Station Properties, Inc., San Francisco.

The use permit stipulates that the building must be constructed in one year.

City Orders Estimates on New Drain Plan

City Engineer Edwin H. Smith was this week directed to prepare preliminary estimates aimed at construction of a new storm drain line along Middlefield road and Oak Grove avenue during the coming summer.

Engineering plans for the job have been completed for several months.

Smith, who was directed to proceed with the planning by the Menlo Park city council, said he felt the drain, estimated cost of which will be about $75,000, can best be financed through an assessment district.

Some of the district will be in Atherton, he said, but the drain will also serve the civic center area and parts of the Linfield Oaks professional-administrative zone.

As originally planned, the drain will extend from a catch basin on Noel drive to Laurel street, thence to Oak Grove avenue along Laurel, along Oak Grove to Middlefield road and south to San Francisquito creek.

Rail 'Hot Box' Lights Five Grass Fires Here

Burning packing from a "hot box" on a freight car axle gave Menlo Park Fire District firemen a busy few minutes here Monday morning, starting five grass fires along the Southern Pacific right of way between Watkins and Oak Grove avenues.

One of the blazes threatened a large wood pile just north of the latter street, before firemen got it under control.

First of the series of grass fires was reported at 11:40 a.m. ,shortly after passage of a southbound train.

The bearing at the end of a freight car axle was apparently hot enough to ignite the lubricant retained in the packing, and was "throwing" it from the bearing receptacle as the train proceeded.

First in Peninsula Newspapers:

'HIGHWAYMAN' IS A YEAR OLD

The first automotive column to appear in a Peninsula newspaper, The Highwayman, with this issue, celebrates its first birthday.

Advance stories in the April 17, 1956, issue concerning Pebble Beach's road races and concours were the first major automotive items to appear in the Recorder. The actual column was started in the June 7, 1956, issue, a short time after the Santa Rosa races.

After a modest beginning length of about six inches, the feature has grown to a point where it extends about one-half page across two columns.

The Highwayman may be found on page five in the Recorder.

Sentenced to Jail For Drunk Driving

Justice moved swiftly Friday and Arden R. Day, 41, of Fresno, began serving a 15-day sentence in the county jail a scant 12 hours after he was arrested on charges of drunken driving in Atherton, Police Chief Leroy Hubbard reported this week.

Day was arrested after he was observed driving north on El Camino Real, near Atherton avenue, at 3:05 a.m. Officers said he was using two lanes of highway. They added that he failed to pass a sobriety test on being taken to the county jail.

THE FIREMEN Saturday were called to the intersection of Gilbert avenue and Willow road, where they extinguished a grass fire of undetermined origin. The call was recorded at 7:14 p.m.

PREPARE FOR CONCERT

PRACTICING FOR A CONCERT Sunday afternoon are Joan Draper and Chico Roberts, who will participate in a program by the Menlo Park All-City Beginning and Intermediate Band. The event, to be held in Hillview School's multi-purpose room, begins at 3 p.m.

Annual Report:

Increased Volume Characteristic Of SRI Activities During 1956

Activities of Stanford Research Institute in 1956 were characterized by increased services in several major research areas coupled with continuing general expansion in total staff and volume of research, SRI's annual report, issued last week, declares.

During 1956, research was carried out on 760 different projects, more than half of which were commercially sponsored. Contract research volume exceeded one million dollars a month for a total of $12.6 million, 25 per cent above 1955.

The Institute's report includes a summary of some of the research projects carried on during the past year. Work was undertaken on the machine-reading of printed characters, the study of upper-atmosphere radio wave reflection, more effective means of planning the distribution of empty freight cars, and research into the development of electronic tubes capable of operating at much higher than normal temperatures.

According to the report the Institute increased its activity in several major areas of research. Radiation studies, high temperature, cancer chemotherapy, electronic video picture storage, noise control and health economics are among those mentioned in the report.

In October E. Finley Carter, who was serving as assistant director and chairman of the management committee, was appointed director of the Institute and a member of the board of directors.

In December, Fred B. Ortman, formerly chairman of the board of Gladding McBean and Co., became an associate director of the Institute with responsibility for aiding development of SRI's Southern California laboratories.

During 1956 the staff increased from 1163 to 1410, and 75,000 square feet of working space was added.

The international program was also expanded, according to the report. Late in the year the Institute announced the establishment of a European office, located in Zurich, Switzerland.

Junipero Serra Furor:

Woodsiders Protest Freeway Plan; Ask Study of Modified Routes

More than 100 telegrams, according to Woodside City Clerk Irma Lewis, and a special Wednesday meeting of the Woodside City Council protested the California Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 184 requesting adoption by the California Highway Commission of a Junipero Serra freeway route that seemed to follow the proposed Route B.

The resolution, scheduled for hearing in Sacramento last Thursday evening at 8 p.m., was co-authored by San Mateo County's Carl Britschgi and Louis Francis, and Santa Clara County's Bruce Allen and Clark Bradley.

Woodside Mayor William L. Lowe and Councilman Richard Marshall attended the Thursday hearing in Sacramento.

Woodsiders breathed more easily at introduction of the later amendment, No. 157, calling for abandonment of Route A and further "adequate" studies of Routes B, C, and others prior to the public hearings promised earlier.

Members of the Woodside council and planning commission have been invited to attend the special freeway meeting called for Wednesday, June 12, at 8:15 p.m. by the San Mateo County Planning Commission, to be held in the Board of Supervisors' chambers.

Meanwhile, from Washington it was learned that the federal government would very likely go along with any route recommended by the division of highways, even though the route is to be financed 90 per cent by the federal government.

According to Bertram D. Tallamy, federal highway administrator of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, the bureau would not approve any route that is a "violation of accepted standards or economically unsound."

Tallamy added, however, that it was his opinion that the California engineers and highway commission would be very sure of themselves before submitting a route.

Younger himself added that if the route adopted for the freeway causes "severe damage to populated residential areas, and this fact is properly brought out during the public hearings to be held by the state," he would vigorously protest when and if the discussion reaches a federal level.

Dolwig Urges Abandonment Of 'A' Route

State Senator Richard J. Dolwig of Atherton this past week introduced in the state legislature, Senate resolution 157, urging the department of public works to give full consideration to "community values" in choosing a route for the extension of Junipero Serra Freeway.

Dolwig's resolution, co-authored by Senator Thompson of Santa Clara county, urges a study of all possible routes prior to any determination of a final route. Dolwig's resolution requests deletion of the highly controversial "route A" and asks for adequate studies of the proposed locations designated as routes B, C, and F as well as variations.

In commenting on his resolution, Dolwig stated, "it will be many months before adequate engineering studies can be made, according to the Department of Public Works, sufficient to prepare preliminary plans that will permit intelligent discussion of all proposals.

"I have been in contact with department officials, and they have assured me that adequate public hearings will be held

Woodside PC Faces Heavy Agenda Tonight

Woodside's planning commission may set a date for public hearing of the proposed ordinance to establish minimum interim 5-acre zoning for hill areas of the city at tonight's regular monthly meeting in the city hall on Woodside road.

The commission's agenda will include consideration of a request for resubdivision of two lots in the Country Squire Estates by Darrell W. Dean, and applications for variances from Paul E. Biber for a five-foot setback on a stable, and from Edwin Wadsworth for a lot on Summit Springs road in Woodside Oaks.

Members will also discuss the use permit and building application approved by the county two years ago for construction of a new elementary school by Our Lady of the Waysi'e Catholic church on Portola road.

As We See It:

FROM BOTTOM TO TOP

We are willing to bet that the anonymous gentleman who invented the wheel never imagined that what he was doing would provide an object lesson in democracy.

Any takers on that bet?

Well, anyway, wheels are this week providing just such an object lesson.

The man who invented the wheel, plus the man who invented the internal combustion engine, have, as of now, joined forces to provide a lesson in how democracy works – not only from the masses up, but from the "Up" to the masses.

Fact is, democracy works both ways – with both ends telling each other what to do. This is, sometimes, confusing, but it is the essence of democracy, and this week, in the problems of the horseless carriage – the wheel, plus the internal combustion engine – we have a classic example of the interplay, the meshing – nay, the buckpassing – which is a necessary and beneficial part of the democratic process in action.

The Auto and Traffic

The automobile has molded our present way of life. California, as it has grown during the past quarter of a century (They were talking about highways 25 years ago: see the "25 Years Ago" columns elsewhere on this page), is founded on the automobile.

So the auto, and the problems it has forced upon us, affect our daily lives and have become a factor to be reckoned with. And, because democracy works from both ends toward both ends, the influence of automobiles and the traffic they engender now is being felt all the way through the fabric of our public life, our democratic government. It is playing its part in the actions of districts and city councils, of state legislatures, and in the actions of the Congress and the President of the United States.

And, most beautiful of all to an objective observer of democracy in action is the fact that no one – not the President of the United States nor the chairman of the local school board – is able to take a step in solving our problems without the consent or acquiescent action of the other!

School District Waiting

Consider: The Menlo Park school district has for some time – eight years, to be more accurate – been studying the possibility of a school site in the Stanford Village area.

The school district, however, does not know whether such a site will be available or proper until it knows more about what the Menlo Park City Council intends to do about extending a street through Stanford Village.

The City Council, on the other hand, is waiting for a decision at the state level. Councilmen have discussed advisability of extending Middle avenue across the Southern Pacific right-of-way to join with Burgess drive at Alma street and to extend across the Village area as a link to Middlefield road. But unless they can count on eventual extension, under State auspices, of Willow road to join with Sandhill road on Stanford University property, the council cannot be sure but what extension of Willow opposite Cambridge avenue might be preferable to the Middle avenue project.

Action Waits on Action

The Willow-Sandhill proposal, however, is currently bogged down because no action to accept such a route into the state highway system can be expected until the question of the Junipero Serra route is settled. The State division of highways, meanwhile, is listening to the yells of various communities and waiting for the dust to settle before deciding where the Serra freeway should go.

And then there is Uncle Sam. Through his federal highway program, he will be paying 90 per cent of the cost of the Serra freeway and will have a say about the route. However, according to Congressman Younger this week, the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads undoubtedly will accept the route recommended by the State of California so long as it is reasonable and not too expensive. Younger himself declares he will fight any proposed route that would "cause severe damage to populated residential areas," if such damage is "properly brought out during the public hearings to be held by the state."

This puts the whole matter back in the laps of the individual cities – and other pressure groups – which now are protesting or favoring one Serra route or the other.

Proof of Democracy

If ever one doubted that America is democratic and that people at the local level have a say in their government, one could ask for no better proof than the present spectacle of the governmental processes of the entire nation waiting upon each other – up and down the scale – for decision on a freeway so we can get a decision on a connecting thoroughfare so we will know where to put a street across the tracks so we can get some inkling as to whether or not such and such might be a conceivable location for an elementary school.

Congressman Younger is working on it in Washington; State Senator Dolwig and Assemblyman Britschgi are working on it in Sacramento; the City Council of Menlo Park is working on it here, and the School Board is waiting to hear what they say.

Meanwhile, the City Council is waiting to hear what YOU have to say. Next Tuesday night at 8 p.m., councilmen will hold a public hearing on the city's long-delayed streets and highways master plan. So get there and tell them!

The school board, the council, the legislature and Uncle Sam all need your advice!

Atherton Police Chief Leroy Hubbard is still waiting for the person who lost his pet dragon, to come and get it.

The dragon—a 12-foot paper affair, with a well-moulded head—was found last week on El Camino Real by Officer Shirden Flanders. It's made to fit over a person's head, and is probably used for entertainment or cere mony, speculate the police.

When he found it, Officer Flanders reported, he had trouble bringing it in because he couldn't handcuff it. The dragon doesn't have any hands.

Chief Hubbard says he'll hang onto the mock-up for a few days, to see if an owner shows up.

Atherton police department's recent picnic for members of the junior traffic safety patrols of the town's schools was a whopping success.

It must have been. The 140 youngsters present gulped their way through exactly 50 dozen hot dogs, reports Police Chief Leroy Hubbard.

Walter:

GETS NEW LUSTRE

Walter the Weathermouse, his head partly concealed by a burnoose, entered the office with his report this week and declared:

"You are not to make fun of me. I am drying some lacquer on my hair. It said on the bottle it would make 'tonsorial adornments shine like diamonds'."

"Obviously," we rejoined cannily, "You are using brilliantine. For a modified 'brilliant' diamond, and also for a modified brilliance of mind."

"Must be the same stuff you used on that stick-pin in the middle of your neck tie," said Walter. "That's a modified diamond if ever I saw one."

Menlo Scholar Gets Fellowship

A Menlo Park student in history at Stanford University is among 154 winners of Ford Foundation fellowships for training in foreign area studies and international relations.

Peter James Duignan's fellowship is for 18 months and will enable him to engage in African studies at Northwestern University, Boston University, and the Central African Foundation. Duignan, wh olives in Stanford Village, has been an acting instructor in history this past year at Stanford.

Your City's Business:

Beginning of Sales Tax Collections To Start Capital Outlay Programs

By C. L. LONGSON
City Manager, Menlo Park

As explained previously in these columns, the budgetmaking process is a complicated one which consumes the interest of the city council for several weeks each year.

This year, in addition to considering revenue from regular sources, the council had before it the consideration of how to allocate funds from the city's sales tax, first revenues from which are to be received before July 31.

It was a logical preliminary on the part of the council—a step taken before final adoption of the sales tax law last March—to make certain decisions as to how the revenue anticipated would be spent.

The council first passed a resolution declaring that, first, bond redemption should be removed from general taxation and should be financed with sales tax monies. It was further decided that, of the remaining sales tax monies, 60 percent would be used for capital outlay projects and 40 percent would be applied to the operating budget of the city, so that property taxes might be reduced.

Of course, the institution of the sales tax here and the subsequent reduction in the property tax rate levied by the city may not mean an actual "windfall" for the average taxpayer.

School taxes and county taxes are expected to continue to rise, offsetting any gains which might be made by the city government.

And because the sales tax is new and the council has had no experience with it, the city is proceeding slowly when it comes to allocating funds from it for various projects.

The "capital outlay" portions of the revenues, for instance, will be allocated with extreme caution during the coming year.

However, the city will complete projects to which it is committed, and undertake others which will result in making some newly-acquired city properties useful for the purpose for which they were purchased.

Under the former category are the tennis courts and fencing promised at Hillview school and turfing and sprinkler installations at Oak Knoll school. Both jobs were promised early last year, as parts of the "capital outlay" program for recreation which the city undertook at that time.

At the city's newly-acquired Gilbert park site in the Willows and Belle Haven park site east of Bayshore highway, minimum facilities will be installed. They will at least make the new parks useful, but will not seriously interfere with future development plans.

The minimum facilities at the two new parks will cost about $10,000 total each, and will include field houses, a small playground at each park, and some turfing.

A similar small field house, embracing sanitary facilities, will be constructed at the city-owned "tot lot" across Ivy drive from Belle Haven school.

Renovation of the Burgess Park Little theater is also planned, and $12,500 has been set aside for this work.

All told, the sales tax money which it is planned to spend on recreational facilities improvements amounts to a total of $30,500.

This is far short of 60 percent of the expected revenues of the sales tax after bond redemption funds are deducted, but it represents a start in the city's capital outlay program.

Menlo Building Barometer

Two building permits, authorizing a total of $27,050 worth of construction, were issued by the City of Menlo Park between May 23 and May 31. They included:

APARTMENTS

Harry Lumello, owner; L. H. Scott, builder; four units at 1040 Florence lane, $27,000.

MISCELLANEOUS

O. J. Hurlbut, owner and builder; new shed at 540 Kenwood drive; $50.

'New' Bayshore Link Opened For First Time

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 25 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

June 3, 1932:

"Motorists 'felt out' the new stretch of the Bayshore highway between Redwood City and Palo Alto today when the six-mile link was thrown open for the first time.

"Traffic is diverted onto Willow road and is routed over the Middlefield road into Palo Alto and then to El Camino Real by way of University Avenue.

"The Bayshore highway has been completed at least one mile below the Willow road point, but until completion of the San Jose link, traffic will be routed through Palo Alto."

CHIEF CREDITED CLEANUP WITH FIRE REDUCTION

"Thirty-two fewer fire alarms were received last month than during the month of May, 1931, it was reported today by Fire Chief Thomas Cuff of the Menl oPark Fire Department.

"The marked reduction was attributed by Chief Cuff to the results of the 'Clean-Up Week' campaign recently conducted by the department.

"During the past month there were only 14 alarms . . .

"The record of the same period of a year ago was 46 alarms . . ."

Fact Finders:

Finance Study Group Gathering Data for 'Complete Picture'

(This is the fourth article of a series being written by officers of the Fact-Finding Council of the Menlo Park Elementary School District. The current one, written by the chairman of the finance study group of the council, explains activities of that group.—ed.)

By THEODORE BLAKE

The finance study group of the Fact-Finding council for the Menlo Park Elementary School District has been busy for several weeks, holding several meetings and amassing materials for further study.

A great deal of material has been assembled for consideration by the committee. It includes:

1. Budget for the 1956-57 school year and the preliminary budget for the 1957-58 school year, to be studied for comparison purposes.

2. The "informational brochure" and "evaluation and summary" promulgated at the close of this year's Sequoia Educational conference.

3. "Tax Rates and Valuation of Taxable Property in San Mateo County," a document compiled by County Controller Ira Boynton.

4. A "report and examination of accounts of the Menlo Park City Elementary School District," prepared by District Business Manager John Richert.

5. The "County-wide Continuing School Survey" report of August, 1956, which is being prepared by the Stanford University school of education.

6. "Research Bulletins" of the California Teachers' Association of various dates.

7. Current reports by the district's business manager, Richert, to the school district's board of trustees.

8. The San Mateo county Superintendent of Schools' "Statstical Bulletins," from mid-1956 to date.

In addition to considering these documents, the finance study group is keeping itself informed of financial developments, by having representatives at regular meetings of the school board at which the current tentative budget is being considered. Our committee has kept informed of such developments as occur.

In general discussion of the group's objectives, it has been unanimously agreed . that our policy should be to "Primarily confine our activities to the finances of the Menlo Park Elementary School District itself." It was further agreed, generally that "the essence of our financial study is to obtain all essential facts and be ready to disseminate them to the public in a complete but readily understandable manner."

To date, the panel has confined itself to preparing to have available sufficient information to be of real help to the other study groups of the fact-finding council, whenever questions of finance arise.

Committee members have shown themselves to be intelligently interested in all phases of the problem, and we are proceeding with our studies in the manner indicated above.

County Comment:

Leonard, Grant Defended on County Grand Jury Charges

AN UNWANTED JOB

The courthouse has been buzzing with the talk of the grand jury charges against popular Max J. Leonard, the veteran county agricultural commissioner. And it's safe to say that the courthouse gang, almost to the man, is hoping the board of supervisors can give the ag chief a clean bill of health.

It seems that every so often a really politically-minded grand jury comes along to either further the publicity of its own personnel or take out a political spite on an office holder. Admitting that there were irregularities in Mr. Leonard's staff members giving him a few lifts around his place while he was flat on his back after suffering a heart attack, does not seem to justify the grand jury's demand that Leonard be fired immediately.

The jury even took exception to the action of the board of supervisors in wanting to quiz all witnesses and get to the bottom of the whole mess. That would indicate that they think they are "kings" of the county and should rule as such.

Few people seem to deny the thinking that the grand jury's attack on Leonard, and previous to that on retiring Engineer M. A. "Cap" Grant, stemmed from bitter north-county political battles and some road and subdivision planning on the Coastside.

Grant was criticized because he wanted to be sure the subdividers followed county rules and provided up-to-date, safe streets.

The other opposition, so we hear, is from the political wars against Supervisor Tom Callan. We can't say these matters of apparent private nature should keep the jury from criticizing any county official, but we don't think they should be a basis for such action.

Any time any grand jury—or other public official or citizen—sees something definitely wrong in governmental operations, the public and the proper authorities should be notified.

In the case of Grant, who ended his long and distinguished service to the county last week, we have only the highest regard for a job well done for the best interests of ALL the county.

The decision to reconstruct the vital bay-coast route through La Honda was made in public by the board of supervisors many years ago. It is one of many routes that must be so improved. When it comes the turn for a central or a north county cross-county lateral to be modernized it will then become the south county's turn to take the small end of road allotments. We don't think any man could have done a finer job than Grant and rather than leave his office in an air of criticism, he should draw the thanks of all the citizens.

We are not thinking of writing a "retirement" piece for Leonard. We don't think the grand jury charges justify any supervisorial action that would demand his ouster. Even if the grand jury takes the matter to the state attorney general as promised. we doubt that anyone will find the charges criminal to the extent that they merit dismissal.

Leonard and his men have probably given more free time to county people than any other one group. We think particularly of the state and county fairs, the many flower growers and nurserymen meetings, the off-hour visits to do some person in trouble a favor. Leonard himself has been one of those "workhorses" that thought nothing of an eight-hour day nor a 40-hour week. He gave talks to all kinds of garden groups and gave many an evening from home to do so.

The county grand jury has a definite purpose in governmental affairs, and disclosing the facts of any irregularities is one of those duties. It is understood that they will have other "startling" news to present before the year is out, which could have other county workers on their toes.

It might look into the extended "coffee breaks" that the courthouse gang and other employes enjoy. It might look into the overstaffing of some offices and the unfair salary schedules that the Civil Service Commission keeps presenting. The jurors could, if they wished, take a look at the low level forced on some of our elected county officials in comparison with those top CS favorites.

Another factor which seems to pinpoint the grand jury's actions into a personal matter was the recommendation to change auditors of the county's books.

No one could have criticized a suggestion that the board hire a new firm, but when it is a specifically named choice it appears that the jury is getting a friend or relative a job. Personally, we don't see why the county lawmakers have to go out of the county to hire competent auditors.

In all construction matters and even for most jobs they require that county residents be favored. But when we want our books checked we have to go to San Francisco.

Who will be the next political victim?

As the Sports Staff Sees It

M-A Dean Coffis Specialized in Base Stealing While with Cards' 'Vowing Sophomores'

BETTER REMEMBERED for his prowess on the gridiron, Menlo-Atherton High School's Dean of Boys James Coffis, has memories too. And one of his favorites has to do with his activities as a baseball player.

Coffis played football for the Stanford Cards from 1935 to 1937 with the famous "Vowing Sophomores" during the springs of those years, however, he was active as a devotee of America's favorite sport.

★ ★ ★

AS A MATTER OF FACT, his specialty was stealing bases.

In his banner year as a baseball player, he stole 37 of them.

On one occasion, he managed to steal all the way from first base to home, to set some sort of a record.

★ ★ ★ ★

"THERE WERE NO AID PROGRAMS for Stanford baseball players in those days," Coffis recalls.

"We just went out and played for fun."

"Most of the time, we were a little short on hitting power, so our success in athletics depended more on strategy."

★ ★ ★ ★

DEFENSIVELY, THE DEAN OF BOYS seems to have liked the wide open spaces. In football he played left halfback and was about as good a safety man as anybody could ask for; in baseball he was an outfielder.

5 Bears Close Careers in Tilt On Saturday

Five Menlo - Atherton High School varsity baseballers will closed out their high school athletic careers Saturday at Stanford's sunken diamond, as parts of a South Peninsula Athletic League All-Senior All-Star team named to contend with the north.

Larry Miller, the Bears' most successful pitcher, will head the delegation. Also going along will be the keystone combination of Cliff Gwartney and Bob Wendell. All-SPAL honorees and specialists at second base and shortstop, respectively.

Third sacker Fred Walston and outfielder Jerry Reed will round out the local delegation.

Actually, Miller will not be the whole show on the mound. He'll be called on to share the hurling chores with Marv Mecklenberg of San Jose and Rudy Steinbruk of Sequoia.

Invaders from the north are also expected to put forth quite a group, with the dangerous Tom Clotier of Jefferson looking like about the heaviest batter likely to show up.

Also looked to as threats are Barry McCarran of San Mateo, Lee Monesch of Burlingame, Jim Vaughn of South San Francisco and Jim Hollister of Hillsdale.

The game is to start at 2 p.m.

Locals Split Two Games with Jeffs

Menlo-Atherton High School's dominance of Peninsula Athletic League baseball remained in the balance Tuesday as the Bears dropped a 3-2 decision to Jefferson's Indians in the second of three north-south playoff games.

The final and deciding battle of the series wil be played tomorrow at Orange Park in South San Francisco. Dick Sanchez, the locals' best-rested pitcher, will start on the mound.

For the Jeffs, Coach Frank Bettencourt declared either Ed Leveroni or Paul Tapia could provide dangerous hurling. Tapia used a fast-dropping curve which nonplussed local batters in the first game of the current series and Leveroni, although giving up nine hits Tuesday, managed to pull a victory out of the fire anyhow.

Larry Miller, the Bears' All-SPAL hurler, only gave up one hit. But he gave up enough walks to get into trouble.

Tom Clotier, big stick in the first game, was pretty well controlled. He batted a line drive into a double play one of his two times at bat, and struck out the other time.

Bear scoring was confined to the top of the fifth, when Bob Wendell was singled in by Roger Postlewaite. Cliff Gwartney scored later when a fly from Jerry Reed was caught, but dropped, in the outfield.

* * *

The Bears got out of the fire because of errors — Jefferson had six during the day and two of them were during the crucial inning.

In the top of the seventh, a bounding left field fly got the visitors two runs and put them ahead 8-7, after Turner had retired two players. He was relieved by Dick Sanchez, who got the final out.

The Bears then went to work.

Jefferson reliever Ed Leveroni got an out, then walked centerfielder Charlie Dahl. Bob Wendell got a single, and Dahl went to third.

POPS UP

Next hitter was Roger Postlewaite, who popped up. But a timely error by first baseman Barry Haanan kept the Bears in the game.

However, Wendell appeared to be getting nervous and as Leveroni started his wind-up, he started for second base. Leveroni balked and Dahl was signalled home for the tying run.

A couple of more pitches and Wendell stole to third, which got him into position to score the winning run as Postlewaite finally got a clean single to centerfield.

The line score:

LITTLE LEAGUE

Lowe, Market Teams Tie 3-3

An error in the fourth inning enabled Lowe Realtors to squeeze out a 3-3 tie with All-American Market. Ronnie Pratt handled the pitching assignment for the Market, while Bob Chaffett and Dick Biovill took over mound chores for Loew's last Saturday.

The Market scored first in the second canto with a bases loaded single by Mike Squires which brought in two runs.

Lowe's came back with a double off the bat of Dave Wagner, who later scored on an infield out.

With the Market leading 3-2 in the fourth and with runners on second and third, a high fly ball was lofted into left field. The elusive ball popped out of the left fielder's mitt, allowing the runner to score from third for the tying run.

The Market had a little better luck Tuesday, blasting out a 15-3 win over Crosby-Digelman in National League competition.

Peres Pitches Lions to Win

Ronnie Peres went all the way to lead the Lions to a 6-2 victory over the Menlo Park Kiwanis in the first game of the current Little League season Saturday. Peres struck out 13 and walked only one batter during the six-inning stint. Craig Cochrane was credited with the loss.

The Lions started it off with a wild first inning consisting of five runs and four hits. Paul Dance came in to complete the inning and gave up only one run in 5½ innings.

The Kiwanis scored single runs in both the fourth and sixth cantos.

Judd & Wright Beats Motormen

Bob Scott twirled Judd and Wright to a 13-2 victory over Crown Motors Tuesday evening at Little League Park, and proved a dangerous man with a bat also, getting two home runs.

Catcher David Havard of the winners also got a round trip, in highlights of the somewhat one-sided game.

Higbee Takes First Place in Pentathlon Sunday

Holden Higbee of Menlo College was top man at King Highway Motor Club's Pentathlon Sunday. Higbee piled up enough points in all events — a rally, a gymkhana, an autocross, a concours and a short written test—to win the overall prize.

Starting in Hillsdale, the participants worked their way to the Ford Motor Company in Milpitas for the autocross and gymkhana. A total of 29 cars were entered in the event.

Poll Names Strong Top Field Performer

Menlo-Atherton discus thrower Tom Strong has been named the Outstanding South Peninsula Athletic League track and field performer by a poll of sportswriters, coaches and officials this week.

Strong, who placed second in the exhibition college weight discus at last Saturday's state high school meet, will be featured in a special section of the 1956-57 SPAL All-Sports Review devoted to the league's outstanding athletes.

The magazine will go on sale on the campuses of the seven league schools tomorrow.

Other outstanding performers named in the special section are the folowing:

Football: Charley Dahl, Menlo-Atherton.

Basketball: Bob Wendell, Menlo-Atherton, and Rich Hosley, Lincoln.

Baseball: Marv Mecklenburg, San Jose.

Swimming: Alan Davis, Palo Alto.

Water Polo: Keith Holleuffer, Menlo-Atherton.

Wrestling: Doug Castle, Palo Alto.

Cross Country: John Northway, Palo Alto.

Tennis: Yoshi Minegishi, Sequoia.

Golf: Jim Sullivan, Lincoln.

Athlete of the Year: Bob Wendell, Menlo-Atherton.

Tossers Place At State Meet

State recognition was conferred on Menlo-Atherton's two most outstanding track and field delegates June 1, when high school finals were held at Berkeley. Besides providing a fitting finale for the local school's own successful track season, the meet saw discusman Tom Strong and shot putter Bob Atkinson climax their prep careers.

Strong, hurling the college-weight plate, managed a second place with a distance of 145'8"; Atkinson, using the heavy iron, placed sixth with a 49'6" effort.

The two will probably continue in athletics in college and, if the past is any indication of the future, they should do well there, too, according to Coach Don Dorfmeier.

Strong, a 205-pound, 6'4" 17-year-old, is junior college timber.

Atkinson, who hopes to go to either Cal Tech or Stanford, weighs 210 pounds and stands 6'2".

Name Mentor 'Coach of Year'

Making the jump from frosh-soph to varsity sports is supposed to be nearly as big a change for coaches as it is for player, but Menlo-Athertons' Frank Bettencourt made the transition from a championship underclass squad last spring to a title-winning varsity team this year as smooth as could be.

For his efforts, Bettencourt was unanimously selected SPAL baseball Coach of the Year by the Peninsula Sportswriters Association.

On All-Star Team

Menlo - Atherton High School is counting its greatest group of all-star baseball talent in history this week after dominating the 1957 All-South Peninsula Athletic League selections with four players.

Pitcher Larry Miller, second baseman Cliff Gwartney, shortstop Bob Wendell and outfielder Jerry Reed were named to the 13-man honor squad. In addition, Coach Frank Bettencourt was selected unanimously as Coach of the Year (see story elsewhere on this page).

Locals Win First Game by 1 Run

Bear pitcher Hal Turner got shelled from the mound in his final outing as a Menlo-Atherton baseball player, but the locals won anyhow to take an early edge on Jefferson High School in Peninsula Athletic League playoffs.

Turner didn't get things under control soon enough in the top of the final canto, and only a see-saw set of happenings in the bottom of the seventh got the Bears their victory.

Main reason for Turner's downfall was Tom Clotier, centerfielder for the Jeffs, who prior to the Friday game, had only hit four times in 31 trips to the plate. Friday, he got four hits for four times at bat, hitting two home runs and getting credit for five runs batted in.

GETS 2 HITS

The best batting Menlo-Atherton could muster against this was Bob Wendell, who got two hits for three trips to the plate, and scored three runs.

Fireman Scores Hole-in-one

Menlo Park Fire District may not have a softball team in the field any more, but the smoke-eaters are still athletic. Proving this last week was Fireman William Bradbury, who scored a hole in one on the 146-yard number two hole at Palo Alto's municipal course.

Fireman W. Altman and K. Trammell, who have also taken up the more sedate sport of St. Andrews, witnessed the ace. So did William Brown, otherwise not identified. He's not a fireman.

Down to Earth:

Thoughtful Planting Will Tie Swimming Pool, House Together

By TERRY LEE

When something as large as a swimming pool is installed in the back yard, it takes some thoughtful planting to tie it in to the house and land around it.

While trees are important in relating house to property, they are banned near the swimming pool. Shade must be provided by umbrellas and awnings, or trees at the edge of the lawn or patio.

What will help are important groups of plants representing, not a variety, but a harmonious scheme. Lighting is also part of the setting, and should be diffused and create bold shadows.

THREE DESIGNS

There are three general planting designs for a pool, representing the dark green sophisticated look, the cool gray look, or the glamorous tropical effect.

The dark green look will make an area seem larger and blend in with any buildings and fences. Most pines, but especially yew and redwoods give this look. Holly, cotoneaster, rhododendron, osmanthus, raphiolepsis, ivy and arbutus are also dark and quite hardy.

This is only a partial list, for one could go on indefinitely mentioning such plants are laurel, figs, oleander, jasmine, pittosporum tobira, virburnum, camellias, etc. It is important, however, to avoid a great variety of plants. Choose a few you like, and highlight these with summer annuals like white petunias or yellow marigolds

BRINGS OUT COLOR

Gray also gives the effect of distance, and it is also cool and impersonal. It brings out the colors of buildings or rocks, and can stand brilliant colors near it. It complements blue and makes a welcome contrast to green.

Most gray foliage plants need sun and fairly dry soil. They do fine in a small pocket of ground surrounded by a patio. Acacia, pineapple guava, teucrium, santolina, thyme, olive, and dusty miller are just a few on the list.

Bold, tropical effects need trees far in the background, a simplicity of design, and new ideas of placement. Bold effects can be organized with hibiscus, agapanthus, yucca, castor bean, papyrus, acanthus, aralia palms. Leatherleaf viburnum and rhododdendron make a good background, and flax a fine upright contrast. Large leaves should be used where there is space and distance to absorb them. More refined foliage is better in a close border.

GARDEN CALENDAR
WEEK OF JUNE 5

Fruit trees can use an all-purpose spray now and one in July. Pear trees need to be watched for fire blight—a shriveling and blackening of tip growth. This must be cut off immediately or it travels down the whole limb.

* * *

Thin by hand the little green fruit that line the branches of peaches, plums, pears, apricots and apple trees. Six to eight inches is good spacing for prize-size fruit.

Softball Skeds To Be Set Here

Final meeting of representatives of both industrial and B league teams will be held tonight in Burgess gym to determine schedules of the two Menlo Park Recreation Department softball leagues.

Representatives of the industrial league will meet at 7 p.m., while B league reps will meet a half-hour later.

Play is expected to begin June 18. I league teams will play Tuesday evenings, while class B ball is set for Thursday evenings. In the event a large number of teams sign to play, games will also be held Wednesdays.

Geiberger, Bratton Get Oak Trophies

Walter Bratton of Olympia, Wash., has received the Donald M. Baer Memorial Trophy, which goes to the outstanding athlete of Menlo College each year.

Both Bratton and Allen L. Geiberger receiver honors at the annual awards assembly May 28. Geiberger received the Frank G. McMahon Memorial Trophy for his contributions to the golf team. He won the same award last year.

The Baer trophy which went to Bratton was inaugurated in 1955 by the college's student council. The award goes to the athlete who, in the opinion of the athletes themselves, has contributed the most to athletics during the year.

Athletic ability, sportsmanship, team play and attitude are all considered in making the choice.

Bratton received all-conference mention in basketball, won the "singles" match in conference tennis and then, with a teammate, won the "doubles" championship.

The McMahon Trophy, which Geiberger received, goes to "the member of the Menlo College golf team who by his spirit, sportsmanship and ability has made the greatest contribution to the team. The trophy was inaugurated in 1954 by members of the golf team.

Menlo Blues Win Second Game to Lead League

The Menlo Blues currently own title to first place in the Babe Ruth League. They made it two wins and no losses when they defeated Eichler Homes Tuesday.

Couch Builders outpointed the L.A. Whites 7-6 during a game the same day, while the Sharin System diamond squad beat Spiro's 7-5. In another game Tuesday, Palo Alto Sports Shop won from Lowe Realty 16-6.

Games for Saturday (All games begin at 10 a.m.):

Los Altos Reds vs. Eichler Homes at L.A. High School.

Spiro's Sport Shop vs. Red Cottage at P.A. High School.

Lowe Realty vs. Sharin System at Flood Park.

Couch Builders vs. Menlo Grays at Cubberely High School.

Menlo Blues vs. L.A. Whites at Burgess Park.

Palo Alto Middies vs. Palo Alto Sport Shop at El Camino Park.

Rec Department Will Set Up Noon Swimming

Swimming for employees of firms within the Menlo Park city limits at Burgess pool during noon hours will start under the auspices of the city's Recreation department June 17.

Persons who wish to swim at the pool between noon and 12:45 p.m. weekdays should contact the department's headquarters in Burgess gym to complete a registration card and pay a $3 fee.

The rec department started the program last year; response at that time was greater than anticipated, according to Stan Sexton. The recreational swimming hour takes the place of adult swimming classes, which were cancelled because of lack of response.

7th Grader Cops Swimming Record

Twelve-year-old Ann Warner, a seventh grader at Menlo Oaks School, broke the Pacific Association record for 11-12-year-old girls Sunday by swimming the 200-yard medley in 2:37.1.

Representing the Santa Clara Swim Club team, Ann made the record at the Berkeley YMCA Swimming Meet held at the Marin Recreation Pool, in Tiburon. It was the fifth such event held annually.

The young girl, who has been competing in contests for three years, is also a member of the Menlo Park Recreation Department's swimming team.

Department Slates Music Lessons at

A music school, sponsored by the Menlo Park Recreation Department, will start June 24 in the Encinal School Music room for a six-week period.

Beginning orchestra, advanced orchestra and string are under the direction of Lucie Landen of the Menlo Park city schools. The three groups will meet Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays for hour periods during the afternoon.

Lee Hill will direct beginning band, advanced band and chorus. All three groups will meet Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

Parents wishing to enroll children in the program may do so by phoning the rec department at DAvenport 2-1727. Once signed, attendance in the music school is not compulsory; children may attend when they are free to do so.

Grads Scuttle M-A Diamond Squad Saturday

Menlo - Atherton High School's varsity baseball team has to wait a whole year to "revenge" itself on the alumni, which beat it 10-6 in a 3½-inning encounter Saturday at Flood Park.

But by next June most of the varsity players will be alumni themselves, and will probably look at things a little differently.

The "first annual" saw the grads field a total of 10 players, although it's guessed a few eligible candidates who might have showed up to aid in the trouncing of the high school team were just a little timid about suiting up.

Mike Lewis, now at College of San Mateo, did the pitching chores for the "invaders" and Fred Walston came in from third base to pitch most of the game for the Bears. Jerry Reed twirled for the last half inning played and during this chapter, the old timers pushed across six runs to wrap up the game.

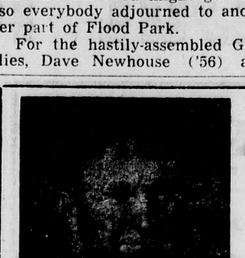

Another half inning would have been played, according to Coaches Ed Mackin and Frank Bettencourt but the players were getting fearful that the food might get cold so everybody adjourned to another part of Flood Park.

For the hastily-assembled Grizlies, Dave Newhouse ('56) and Barry Young ('51) were the outstanding performers.

Jim Gowdy and William Price of the Menlo-Atherton Dads' Club were in charge of the food.

COLLEGE OF SAN MATEO

Class of 1957 student social activities begin this week with the Soph picnic on June 6 and the formal on June 8. Graduates and guests will gather at Adobe Creek Lodge from noon until 6 p.m. for the annual picnic.

St. Raymond's Pastor Is Honored On 25th Anniversary of Ordination

Members of St. Raymond's parish met Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. to congratulate their pastor, the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Edwin J. Kennedy on the occasion of the silver jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood.

They were joined by Monsignor Kennedy's family and friends, chief among whom was his father, Phil Kennedy, who left Palo Alto Hospital for the duration of the program in order to be present. Kennedy had been ill for several weeks but was determined to attend the ceremonies which honored his son.

Representatives of all the parish organizations escorted Monsignor Kennedy from the rectory to the setting near St. Raymond's parochial school for the program which had been coordinated by a "presidents' council" headed by Mrs. Herbert Seidelman of Menlo Park.

Altar boys and members of the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts formed an honor guard.

Rev. Warren Wood, assistant to Monsignor Kennedy, gave the opening prayer and Adrian Ward of Menlo Park was master of ceremonies. Children of St. Raymond's parochial school presented a spoke nan dsung tribute to their pastor, preceding the speaker of the day, Rev. Stanley Riley, pastor of St. Nicholas of Los Altos.

Speaking on the theme of "Vocations for the Religious Life," Father Riley stated that he was not going to speak in praise of the honored guest but rather attempt to explain the meaning of the Catholic priesthood so that everyone present could offer a meaningful congratulation to Monsignor Kennedy on his jubilee day.

During the program messages of congratulation were read from Bishop Sweeney of Honolulu, Archbishop John J. Mitty of San Francisco and Amleto Cicognani, the Apostolic delegate in Washington, D.C., who sent the Papal Blessing.

MONSIGNOR KENNEDY

Seated on the speakers' platform with Monsignor Kennedy, Rev. Wood and Rev. Riley and Adrian Ward was Rev. Thomas J. McKeon, pastor of the Church of the Nativity in Menlo Park.

Fashion Carousel:

NY Designers Showing Fall Fashions for '57

By EVELYN RADCLIFFE

Hang onto your hats . . . your summer flowered ones, that is, because it's fall in the fashion world! That's right, the New York designers have already shown their fall clothes, and starting June 16 the San Francisco fashion industry will make its presentation of fall fashions.

In New York the coat and suit look is a furry one. Fur trimming both inside and out is the mark of fashion for fall 1957.

There is a big play on black furs, namely black mink and sable, but also the (comparatively) less expensive persian lamb and seal. And some of the New York designers are dying the fur to match the fabric.

In the over-all picture of suits and coats there seems to be a slight widening of the shoulders, and some shortening of the skirts, but it's all unobtrusive. We'll attend the showings in San Francisco and give you a report on what our California designers have for us for fall.

We find it hard to think about fall clothes when we haven't worn our newest summer dress yet. But this is one of the anomalies of the industry, and a necessary one. The buyers must view the clothes and make their choices in time for the manufacturers to make up the quantities desired, and cope with transportation problems, so that before the weather begins to get the slightest bit cool, milady can purchase her new suit and be ready and waiting for fall.

The unseasonable timing in the industry puts you in a spot if you haven't shopped for vacation clothes before July, and it's the nature of Mrs. Average Buyer to let the weather dictate to her shopping.

Some of the stores are waking up to this and ordering new warm weather merchandise to be delivered in July when all the summer things are picked over and shop warn.

This is especially true of bathing suits. Last year some of the stores had shipments of new bathing suits in August! We think this is an idea that should be fostered. it's along about then, with ardent swimmers anyway, that you decide your last year's suit isn't good enough, or it begins to sag in the middle, or you find yourself with so many opportunities to swim that you need an extra suit. Now if they will just follow through with this and order shipments of other necessary vacation items we can beat this problem.

Speaking of bathing suits, we'd like to say a word about quality. As in everything else, it pays to buy quality in bathing suits, and from a reliable manufacturer.

Most of the well-known bathing suit makers put the fabrics through rigorous testing before they make it up into suits. There is the machine with a carbon arc which reproduces the sunshine at the beach to test for color fastness.

There is the bath in chlorinated water, and salt water to test for "bleeding" or running together of colors. And there is a gas chamber test which simulates the chemical properties in the air which can turn greens to purple and blues to pink.

HONORED QUEEN

Diane Johansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Johansen of Atherton avenue, Atherton, was installed as honored queen of Bethel 170, International Order of Job's Daughters at ceremonies held Saturday evening.

Organized Labor Rallies to Aid Sequoia Area Girl Scout Council

Organized labor in San Mateo County has rallied to the call for help sent out by the Sequoia Area Council of Camp Fire Girls at their 40-year-old established camp, Woodhaven, according to camp director Jean Carr.

Mrs. W. G. Stevenson of Atherton is established camp chairman. Members of the Plumbers and Steamfitters Local 467 of San Mateo County have volunteered to put in all kitchen facilities in the new dining hall, bathroom facilities in the main lodge, six or more outside sanitary facilities, and will provide a filter for the pool to improve the water purification system. Labor, as well as materials, will be donated by the union.

Sam Abruscato, business agent for the plumbers union, recently met with Mrs. Stevenson to go over plans for the dining hall with Jack and Lew Tomberlin, of East Palo Alto, fathers of Girl Scouts in the Sequoia Area Council, and locally employed plumbers.

Carpenters of Local 1408, Redwood City, have been donating time to build collapsible sanitary facilities and storerooms to be transported to the Clark Fork Camp as a seven-piece package and re-assembled on the new camping site.

Among local area men working on the assemblies are George Bobbie, Thomas Clark, Jack Ziegler, Lew Mattis, August Caumon and site development chairman F. Cliff Davis of Menlo Park.

The Girl Scouts have been having a capital funds drive during May to raise funds for the camp and are recruiting volunteer labor through a volunteer fathers' service committee. Tile and cement workers are particularly needed at the present time, according to Mrs. Carr, as well as other specialists in the building trades.

Faculty Wives Luncheon at R. Turner Home

The Menlo Park home of Dr. and Mrs. Rex Turner was the setting recently for a luncheon for some 70 faculty wives from Carlmont, Menlo-Atherton and Sequoia High Schools to close their activities for the 1956-57 season.

As the faculty wives have been working this past year on fund-raising projects for the American Field Service program, their special guests at the luncheon were two foreign exchange students, Paula Savilahti from Finland and Grete Anderson from Norway. Both young students wore their native costumes and both talked of their experiences and broader undertsanding of America and the American way of life resulting from their year's stay in the United States as foreign exchange students.

Paula has been attending Menlo-Atherton High School and Grete has been attending Palo Alto High School.

The AFS governing boards for three high schools for the coming year were also introduced at the luncheon. A vote was taken and it was unanimous that the faculty wives would again assume fund raising for the American Field Service as their project for the 1957-58 school year.

Mrs. John Dusel, a Sequoia faculty wife and also chairman of the American Field Service summer program for the Menlo-Atherton district, explained the selection procedure and financial arrangements for American students who are selected to spend their summers abroad under the program.

Coop School Sets Summer Session

Persons interested in giving their children relaxed, creative play this summer may call either DA 3-2545 or EM 8-4078 for information.

Mrs. Jules Seitz of Palo Alto is the professional director of the cooperative nursery.

What's Doing Among Menlo Park Teen-Agers

Sue Legallet DA 6-0295

Have you ever had so much to say that you don't know where to begin? Well, that's how it is this week, and, gee, we guess we'll just take up the first notes and begin . . .

It seems that a week ago today we had a holiday . . . and that means a party or two. First, we can talk about Toby Hanna's dinner gathering Wednesday night. Included in on ping pong, dancing and croquet were Jim Chandler, B. J. Russell, Jon Butah, Sherry Racine, Doug Luna, Bill Drum, Holly Gray, Dale Stopp, Sheila Buckley, Bill Hansen, Bette Benidt, Bob Buckthal and Liz Yarborough.

The same night Nancy Gray had a neat, quick idea of a slumber party. "We just fooled around and didn't do anything special." By "we," Nancy meant Terry Rudolph, Sue Betts, Julianne Schaffer and Jan Nail. Much to all their sorrow, Susan Betts had the measles the next day.

ON THE BEACH

One more holiday party that was reported: a beach party planned by Cynthia Witbeck and Linda Biocini. Starting in the morning and continuing all day at Rio Del Mar, the kids, Carol Powell, Bob Kingsley, Mary Lewis, Jim Jorgensen, Kathy Nelson, John Smurr, Ted Ludiman, Mike Cottrell, Pete Edelen, Macy Ennis, Ermus Kaldveer, Sue Fehring, Sharon Hatlett, Bill Symon, and more, really had o swell time in all that sun.

For the most part, we are leaving the Prom parties for the last, so this column may not be in timely sequence. Sunday afternoon Bev Crofts and Linda Nicholai planned a party. All of the kinds that were there, Liz and Patsy Gullison, Barbara Buckles, Judk Klink, Liz Kennedy ,Thelma Masserdoti, Peggy McDowell and Lynda Scott, innocently awaited refreshment time . . . and then the surprise. The cake was a surprise for Lynda Scott, and so was the gift of a dress. The girls had been sneaky-like in their planning the going-away party for Lynda. She leaves June 14.

ALLIED ARTS

We've all heard of Allied Arts, and Janna Osmond just recently re-acquainted Terry Rudolph, Lynne Livingston, Vickie Andrews, Sue Strickland, Sally Tuttle, Judy Berger, Cynthia Witbeck, Darlene Anderson, Macy Ennis, Marsha Mirsky and Susan Betts with the place by inviting them for a luncheon.

Speaking of luncheons, it reminds us of the lovely tea given by Bette Benidt and Holly Gray Sunday afternoon. Like many of these Senior affairs, many too many kids are there to mention names, but all reports said that it was the best tea, and the food was just delicious.

Two more parties to go, then the Prom affairs. Somehow, the idea of Chinese lanterns appeal to a party along with streamers. Puts everyone in the party mood, or it did at Anne Whiting's Saturday night. Then at 10 p.m. the dancing was interrupted with bar-be-qued food. It was one evening for Bonnie Sexton, Lynn Livingston, Sharon McQuilkin, Sheryl Dunn, Kathy McKenna, Paula Thayer, Yolanda Strock, Jane Breckler, Terry Rudolph, Sue Byrne, Barbara Sheink, Nancy Gray, Steve Anderson, Charlie Dole, John Lindsay, Matt Tielman, John Hunt, Steve Bryson, Rickey Wright, Bob Goodrich, Bill Wright, Ted Ludiman, Dan Hack, Larry and Bob Brooks, plus others.

And we spoke of the second. This was the fabulous part ygiven by Mimi Werner. First the crowd went to the mountain cabin to drop off the food. Then on to the beach! They found Rio Del Mar just lovely, and the surf provided perfect swimming. Well, now for names, Bob Buckthal, Liz Yarborough, Bette Benidt, Bill Hansen, Lawson Lowe, Gail McLain, Jerry Onnen, Jim Sherman, Barb Dickman, Bill Bull, Rosemarie Montalvo, Joan Wickstrom, Don Schamber, Holly Gray and Bruce Hoelter. For more info, just ask any of them.

PROM PARTIES

Well, now here we go, with just loads of names, and not much detail. Beforehand parties included one "coketail" party given by Teddie Huffcutt. Sipping the cokes were Marge Plaisted, Kent Flanders, Marlene Rudolph, Lynn Peterson, Jack Parker, Al Luchine, Liz O'Connell, Dick Campbell and Linda Skaff.

Then, the group above also went to the Lanai. Others seen . . . Linda Crawford, John Niven, Barbara Buckles, Pete Kaldveer, Sue Hall, Dave Stirm, Terry Holland, Melissa Lowe, Bud Corson, Beth Rosener, Chickie Myers, Joan Stickner, Hank Raulhausen, Betsy Kimball and that's all, we think.

And now for a group that had dinner at home: the home of Lynda Scott, to be exact. Dining together . . . Bill Adams, Jim Kjergard, Peg McDowell, Gary Olson, Becky Hayner, Thelma Massadotti, Tom Hodgson, Charlie Dahl, and Sheri Adams.

These names mean anything to you? Lyndham Jones, Barc Corbus, Bev Crofts, B. J. Russell, Andy Schwartz, Judy Chapin, Bill Thompsen, Leslie Kick, and Dick Peery? Well, to Judie Hicks they meant dinner guests of pre-Prom activities.

SURPRISE

Now, after "La Soriee," Dottie Grove was given a surprise party. Details were never quite figured out, but guests were Dick Aced, Jack Parker, Lynn Peterson, Fifi Skaff, Dick Campbell, Penny Post, Dave Hall, Pat Hirsch, Rudy Ramp, Liz O'Connell, Al Luchini, Marge Plaisted, Kent Flanders, Sharon Hamilton, Barry Davidson, Liz Ramp, Pete Hayes, and others.

This whole group later joined the crowd at Carl Stevenson's, some of them being Tim Myles, Phyllis Crockett (whose parents helped out), Kathy Davis, Dave Morley, Carol Drury, Karma Gropp, Henry Fullenwider, Lois Hoelter, Charlie Johnson, Terry Baker, Mary Lou Parham, Hal Wyman, Judy Gough, Pete Hayes, Barbara Bong, Joan Starkweather, Bill Cheal, Peg Snyder, Dick Newman, Sharon Snow, Ken Oliver, and so many others that we could go on and on and on.

AT VILLA

Still another group going to dinner . . . but this time at the Villa. So, all together . . . Terry Slack, Kathy Eggiman, Ben Blair, Carol Hammon, Dave Webster, Ann Wedimyer, John Symon, Mary Ann Huebsch, Gary de Give, Cynthia Henderson, Nick Nickolas, Cheryl Barnes, Owen Hawkins, Gaither Hatcher, Frank Tripiano and Betsy Winnberg.

Then speaking of all these people reminds us of the fact that some 200 people were in and out of the Slack house from midnight until six in the morning . . . There were some even in swimming.

Speaking of these all-night affairs, another was thrown by Bonnie Hall. It was over at 8 a.m. and included such people as Chuck Dull, Darryl Kirkish, Marge Adams, Lois Grosshardt, Bob Andrews, Pat Hall, Doug McLane, Karen Hillman, Roy Ellis, Raye Marston, John Pesck, Pat Donnelly, Bob Beggs, Don Armanesco, Ray Hodlerman, Dianne Gerrard, Brenda Rich and Jim Brown. Gads —we should think that that's enough.

PIZZA

Never fail, whatever the occasion, someone has to have pizza, and the never-failer this time was Lois Cinquini. Because all we are doing this week is to give names plus and details minus, we'll continue in the same manner. Names —Dick Magnuson, Johnny Christenson, Sue Lampman, Ned Hales, Chris Bleuss, Sue Dunn, Tom, Eric Swegles, Jenny Bartells, Maryann Flores, Tom Mazzulla, Nina Fazio, Ed Doyle and others.

And now we have one more party that was reported this week — Given by Laddie Jane Gock ,it provided entertainment for many already mentioned, plus more, including Bob Newhouse, Sharon Edwards, Wells Richter, Patti Brown, John Gaibaldi, Jackie Gerbo, Terry Maloney, Dave Leahy, Liz O'Connell, Al Luchini, Fifi Skaff, Dick Campbell, Penny Duerr, Sue Clancy, Ralph Dorst, Terry Holland, Melissa Lowe, Jim Coffman, Jane Benidt, Ted Coby, Bonnie Bridges, Jim Nicewonger, Joan Schanz, Owen Hawkins, and Gaither Hatcher.

And thank goodness that is all. The arms are getting mighty tired from all this typing. So enough.

ACCORDING to the Palo Alto Auxiliary to the Children's Home Society, approximately 4000 persons viewed the Decorators' Show held recently in Atherton.

Shopping in Menlo

with MERRIE PARKER

The strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" will start off ceremonies this month for June graduates throughout the area. And browsing downtown this week in Menlo Park stores, we found many gift ideas for this very special day.

The gift long to be remembered, for either the boy or girl graduate, is a handsome wrist watch which will take them on to higher learning or out into the business world. Hirzel's jewelry store has a very large selection of watches from top names such as Wittnauer, Omega, Croton, Wyler, Hamilton, Longine and Bulova. We definitely urge you to stop by Hirzel's to see their display where you'll find the watches starting from $35 . . . many different watch designs and many and varied watch bands available.

* * *

Another exciting gift item we saw are the transistor radios at Prein's . . . hardly "bigger than a minute," they're small enough to slip into a dress or shirt pocket. They'll go anywhere . . . to picnics, to beaches, to parties. Available in colors of beige, gray, black, cream, green and blue ,they start at $34.95. Also at Prein's are the very popular Bongo Drums, which are currently the "rage" for teenagers and jazz and calypso fans. The music enthusiasts beat out time along with recordings and have a wonderful time at large or small parties. Priced from $10.50 up, a pair of these drums will be really "keen" with the younger set.

* * *

Now, and after graduation, too, is definitely beach and swimming time and you'll like the cute beach bags we saw this week at Clifford's Pharmacy. Priced from $1.98 up, these smart bags are of washable linen with rubber lining . . . patterned in the round shape or as a string bag . . . and in colors of blue, pink, red and yellow. Also for the feminine graduates is the new elongated lipstick case by DuBarry priced at $1.25 with refills for 75 cents . . . and the new fragrance of "Pink Satin" by Angelique. The cologne starts from $2, and the perfume from $3. Any of these gift selections would delight the girl graduate.

* * *

Very much on the glamorous side, and what young teen-ager doesn't want to be glamorous?, are several items we saw this week at Sparrows Studio Inc. For instance, she'll love the beautiful decorated glass powder boxes complete with fluffy powder puff . . . priced at $6.95. To add to her growing sophistication are the lovely little quilted satin jewel cases in either the square or round shape with zippers and studded on the lid with tiny pearls. These cases, which start from $2.25, will help her keep her jewelry in order and will also go with her on her summer vacation, too. They are available in white, pink, green and yellow.

Fremont PTA Annual Family Event Tomorrow

The annual family picnic sponsored by the Fremont School PTA will be held tomorrow evening at 6:30 p.m. at the school.

Norman Cory, music supervisor, will assist in the community singing and Lew Knights, physical education instructor, will assist with community dancing. Mrs. Reid Whiting is in charge of the general arrangements.

Assisting Mrs. Whiting are Calvin Byrns, Raymond Palmer, Augustine DeOcampo, Justice Young and John Biding.

Troop 304 Has Investiture At Woodside

The second grade Brownie Troop 304, Portola Valley, recently held its investiture ceremonies at the Woodside Highlands Improvement Clubhouse with their parents as guests.

The girls who received their pins were Kathleen Bush, Francie Damon, Margaret Harris, Shelley Kasle, Mary Kiely, Victoria Merugg, Linda Ann Myers, Peggy Lou Parks and Robin Sills.

The two new members who were invested yesterday were Pamela Kreigh and Susan McCoy.

The girls are studying nature and have also made shoulder bags to use in collecting material on their hikes.
